

47, 147 and ~~248~~
247

Centenaries of the Eternal City

47-48BC

---

Paul's first missionary journey, around 47-48, was with Barnabas to Cyprus, a natural choice as it was the latter's home.

They also travelled through southern Anatolia (modern Turkey) before returning to Antioch.

47 & 49

Chronographes
Paul's first missionary journey was 47 & 49 AD.

47AD

Corbula suppresses the Frisii

47AD

Centenary of Eternal City

753

47

800 yrs since founding

(By their reckoning)

47AD

The Romans subjugate southern Britain.

47-48AD

---

St Pauls missionary tour.
Jnt Asia Minor.

47AD born

120AD died

Plutarch, Greek historian

47 AD

After Damascus, upon regaining his sight, St. Paul set out with St. Barnabas and St. Mark on his 1st missionary journey. Established churches in Cyprus and Asia Minor. About 50 AD he was at a Council of the apostles in Jerusalem, opposing the Judaistic group's support for circumcision, which would have made Christianity a Jewish Sect.

47-49 AD

Coraetacus maritimus the British struggle in the west against the Romans

47-52AD

CELTS

Ostorius Scapula advances on Wales

47AD

DURANT

REVOLT of CARACTACUS

47AD

Ostria succeeds Plautius in Britain.

47AD.

Plautius (in Britain) was replaced by OSTORIUS SCAPULA who completely defeated CARACTACUS in battle in SITROPESHIRE, probably at CAER CARADOC. The wife, daughter and brothers of CARACTACUS were captured.
CARACTACUS fled to the country of the Brigantes in the north, only to be delivered by QUEEN CARTISMANUA to the Romans.

He was taken to Rome and made to take part in a triumphal procession. Here he was led before the Emperor CLAUDIUS and an assembly of the people.

According to Roman historian Publius CORNELIUS TACITUS, he stopped and addressed the Emperor & so won the monarch by his noble behavior and pathetic speech that the Emperor pardoned him. According to Welsh "TRIADS", he lived 4 years longer. His children became Christians & introduced Christianity into Britain.